to raise and strengthen insufficient island levees; the sandpit is just north of the east end of the Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge. At the right, rapidly rising water attempts to seek its own level shortly after a section at the south side of the island broke. Here the water rushes across a roadway to flood hundreds of acres of farmlands and the vicinity of several homes. Most residents of the island and volunteer workers had been evacuated by late yesterday morning. Most of the island was covered by water today.

WEATHER OUTLOOK

Clearing today with high in mid-40s. Fair and cooler, no rain, low 30 to 40. Breeze from the south. Sunday, clearing, fair, and warmer. High in the 40s.

Island floods; sewer breaks linked to height of river

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

Fifty families were left homeless Wednesday as water broke through and topped levees on Chouteau Island yesterday, covering nearly all of the island. There is no flood threat to the local community.

The Mississippi River is at a record 41.7 feet today and may reach 43½ feet Saturday before dropping.

The Red Cross has made provisions for homeless Chouteau Island families at St. Elizabeth's Hospital until more permanent arrangements can be made. A lone holdout, Edwin Wagner, said he preferred to remain in his home, which he said is safe.

The battle against the rising Mississippi River continued on the island through about noon yesterday, although it became apparent early yesterday morning that the effort was destined to fail. Most residents were evacuated from the island by 10 a.m. Wednesday.

At 7:45 a.m. a levee broke, flooding most of the southern portion of the island. The break was at the southwestern tip of the island, just north of where a break occurred in 1947, flooding the island.

Within two hours yesterday, the three-foot-wide break had expanded to about 30 feet across.

A second break occurred north of the first break on what is called the "ring levee" at 11:45 a.m.

Efforts to halt the flooding continued until 12:30 p.m., when the height of the river topped west side levees near the old Chain of Rocks Bridge, inundating virtually all of the island except the Mat Landfill and old Route 66, which con-

Method used in selecting new GC school administrator is assailed

The filling of an administrative post by the Granite City Board of Education by a brother of a former school board member was criticized Monday night as "an apparent example of nepotism in the most blatant form," by Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 743.

A letter asking that the April 2 appointment of Alan Crider, brother of former board member Robert E. Crider, as head of the district's gifted program, be rescinded, was read at Monday night's Board of Education meeting.

The board decided to stand behind the appointment, contending that Crider was the board's top choice from the three applicants for the post.

Carl Macios, board president for the past year, was asked to respond to the union in writing, detailing the district's policy in filling positions and giving examples of other posts filled to show that the proper methods of posting and interviewing for the job are carried out.

In the union's letter to the board, John Boyer, local president, commented that "This particular appointment violates the posture the board has traditionally taken regarding credentials and experience when making appointments."

"The appointment is an apparent example of nepotism, and it is certain to pose the question of credibility in regard to all other appointments made by the board."

"The only possible course of action for the board to follow in this matter, so as to demonstrate fairness, credibility and objectivity, is to rescind the appointment at once, repost after establishing firm qualifications for the position, and fill it after an impartial appraisal

New drownings

Two South Roxana sisters who moved from Granite City last year drowned Monday afternoon in the flood-swollen Indian Creek, a mile east of South Roxana.

The victims were Barbara Sue Stuart, 11, and her sister, Lori Marie, 9, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh (Jacques) Stuart of 112 Ohio St., South Roxana.

Both were students last year at Washington School. The family lived here in the 1700 block of Poplar Street.

They reportedly rode their bicycles with a friend to the creek to play about 3 p.m. Lori and the friend tied a string to a tree and went wading, holding onto the string to keep from falling down because they could not swim, according to reports.

The two girls were returning to shore when Lori lost her grip on the string and called for help. Her sister reportedly jumped in to try to save her, but she could not swim either. Both girls disappeared under the water. The friend rushed home to seek help.

The Wood River Emergency Corps arrived about 5:30 p.m. and began dragging the river for their bodies. Barbara was found at 7:15 p.m. about 100 feet from the shore and Lori was found dead at 7:30 p.m. about 50 feet from the shore.

Springfield—A world without dishwashers, hair dryers or power lawnmowers. Without paper towels, straws or disposable diapers, but with handkerchiefs in the laundry instead of disposable tissues in the wastebasket.

Neither science fiction of a remote, grim tomorrow nor a historical novel of a remote Dark Age, it is the environmentalists' version of the good life today.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is issuing a little booklet—handsomely printed in color on 100% recycled paper—which suggests all those things and many, many more.

Some are the obvious—use low-lead gasoline, don't smoke, don't burn leaves and trash, walk or bicycle when you can, turn off appliances when not in use.

Some others will hit the intended readers where they live—repeatedly.

Like: don't buy or use electric knives, can openers, blenders and such. Like: use a handpowered lawn and garden tools, use soap instead of detergents.

Fire chief to retire

Earl Fronbarger, chief of the Granite City Fire Department since June 1968 and a member of the fire department for the past 29 years, announced his retirement Monday night.

Fronbarger notified City Council members during their regular session that his retirement would be effective May 1 since he is due a vacation period that will extend through June 5.

The fire chief joined the Granite City department Sept. 1, 1944, was promoted to engineer in September 1966 and to captain in March 1969.

He was appointed as chief by Mayor Donald Partney on June 1, 1968.

Stucke was appointed to the board in 1967, was elected to a three year term in 1968 and re-elected for three years in 1971.

He served as board treasurer the past year. The board seated newly-elected member Norman Hall. Stucke welcomed Hall before accepting the president's post. "I am proud and honored and

Word from former POW Beeler

The parents of Navy Lieutenant Carrol R. Beeler, a returned prisoner of war who was reared in Granite City, have sent expressions of thanks to area residents for kind wishes received by the family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. (Tiny) Beeler of Frisco, Tex., formerly of the 2400 block of Benton Street, relayed the message through local relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin M. Stamps, 500 E. Chain of Rocks Road.

The message from the Beeler family reads:

"To All: To say thank you to each one is all we can do. So to you who have prayed and have been so kind we do sincerely say 'thank you.' May God bless and keep each one of you. Lt. Beeler also sends his thanks and best wishes."

Stucke heads board

Donald W. Stucke, a member of the Granite City Board of Education five and a half years, was elected Monday night as president of the board, replacing Carl Macios who will serve as a board member.

Stucke was appointed to the board in 1967, was elected to a three year term in 1968 and re-elected for three years in 1971.

He served as board treasurer the past year. The board seated newly-elected member Norman Hall. Stucke welcomed Hall before accepting the president's post. "I am proud and honored and will do my utmost to do my best. Carl (Macios) should be honored. I hope I can do as well," Stucke told the board. Re-elected board member Carl Macios was congratulated.

The board voted to continue the salary of the board secretary at $360 per year, the same as last year, and George Moore Sr. was elected to fill that post. Moore replaces Arthur L. "Pete" Metcalf who will serve as a board member.

The growing number of breaks in sanitary sewer lines in the Namecki area was declared an emergency by the Granite City Council Monday night as the first step toward seeking government aid in financing repair costs.

In a resolution that said the breaks already have spread to a point with which the city is financially unable to cope, the city urged the state to designate Granite City as a flood disaster area under which it would be eligible for funds from the U. S. Office of Emergency Preparedness if and when Illinois is listed by the President as a disaster area.

The action came after Street Superintendent Lincolnton told the council that eight breaks in sanitary sewer lines have now developed in the Namecki area and that repairs are impossible due to a high water table ranging as high as five feet above the depth of the broken lines.

An inspection of ground water problems was made last week by Pete Garrison of Stang Hydraulics Co., Tulsa, Okla., who noted that the high stage of the Mississippi river makes it impossible to dewater the ground around the sewer breaks. Portell told the council.

The city has rented a number of "well points" from the hydrology firm, but their use in efforts to pump the water from the ground around the breaks has proven ineffective so far, the street superintendent said. As a result, street department workers are unable to reach the breaks to repair the lines.

"You can't repair sewer lines that are under water," he added.

Portell said the full manpower of the street department "is pumping water 24 hours a day." He said there have been

Refunds delayed

Refunds to individuals of 1971 personal property taxes totaling $1.3 millions in Madison County—approximately $350,000 of it paid by Quad-City taxpayers—have been held up by County Treasurer George Musso as the result of an Illinois Supreme Court order temporarily halting the payment by Illinois counties.

The personal property tax funds which were paid under a protest made statewide by former Governor Richard B. Ogilvie because of litigation over the constitutionality of a 1970 referendum abolishing the personal property tax on individuals, have been held in escrow since their collection in 1972.

County collectors throughout the state had been preparing to make tax refunds on the basis of a circuit court ruling handed down in Cook County in connection with a suit filed by the Illinois Agricultural Association asking that such refunds be ordered.

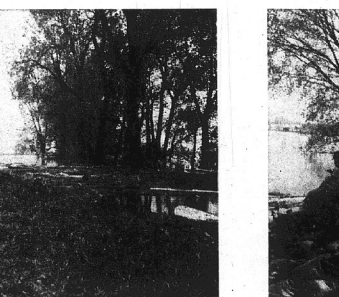

Musso said he received a notice Friday from the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs that refunds should be held up on the basis of the Supreme Court ruling.

In its action on the agricultural association suit, the state Supreme Court took "supervisory jurisdiction," that is, it acted upon its own initiative without one of the parties having appealed the ruling from the circuit court.

CHOUTEAU ISLAND FLOODING yesterday shortly after a portion of the protecting levee broke. Hard work by hundreds of volunteers was unable to stop the rising water of the Mississippi River and the pressure against the levees it created.

At left, local high school students and other volunteers fill sandbags near the foot of the Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge. At center, the difference in the levels of water Wednesday is apparent at a levee on the west side of the island; the river is to the right only inches from the top of the levee, while to the left is seep water on island farmland. This levee was topped an hour later.

At right, professional workers sit atop a pile of sandbags waiting to load boats to transport the bags to portions of the levees where work was continuing. The photo at right was taken on the west side of Chouteau Island.

Mitchell station is official AAA garage

The Auto Club of Missouri, serving territories in Missouri, Illinois and Kansas, has announced the appointment of Ed's Standard Service in Mitchell as a new official AAA garage.

Ed's Standard Service becomes one of a nationwide chain of more than 24,000 AAA garages rendering service to some 15 million AAA members throughout the country.

Registration of new SIUE students May 11

Registration for new students planning to enter Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this summer will be held Friday, May 11, from 2 to 6 p.m. Elizabeth Tarney, academic advisor in the General Studies Division, said letters with information on advisement appointments will be sent to new students in the last week of April.

Advisement appointments are planned to help students select courses they will take during the summer quarter.

Student teaching

Robert Bringer, 2616 Jordan Ave., an education student at Illinois State University, is beginning a teaching internship in the field of mathematics at East Peoria High School.

Freshman orientation will be held May 9 to 11. New students unable to attend freshman orientation on those dates should make appointments for advisement in the General Studies Office in the General Office Building, she added.

Sales tax cuts proposed, two hearings scheduled

Copley News Service / Springfield — Sales tax proposals to cut the present levels will be the subject of two public hearings by a special subcommittee of the Senate.

The subcommittee is being headed by Sen. David C. Shapiro, R-Amboy. The first hearing is slated for Friday in Springfield and the second one will be Monday in Chicago, Shapiro is the chairman of the Senate Revenue Subcommittee on Sales Tax Reductions, Credits and Allowances.

Several legislative proposals have been tossed into the hopper for consideration during this current session of the 78th General Assembly. Bills to cut back the sales tax on food and medicines have already cleared the House. They are being sponsored by House Speaker W. Robert Blair, R-Park Forest. Sen. Stanley B. Weaver, R-Urbana, has some in the Senate. In all there are some seven proposals on the matter. Besides those that call for a direct cutback in the present levels, there are some bills that seek to give credit for sales taxes paid through checkoffs on the state income tax.

Gov. Daniel Walker has said he favors some type of tax relief for the taxpayers. He has indicated that he does favor a type of credit through the state income tax. Even though such legislation has been introduced Walker has not definitely spelled out his support of the proposal. But if such a proposal did reach his desk he probably would sign it into law.

11 school posts are created by board

The Granite City Board of Education Monday night created 11 new positions to help staff the new Granite City High School/North which will open in September.

Positions created were for three English teachers, two health instructors, a social studies teacher, one teacher for both science and math, an art instructor to teach at both GCHS/N and Prather Junior High School, a home economics instructor, a drivers' education teacher and a librarian.

The board created most of the new positions for the new school Jan. 10 based on minimal enrollment projections. The need for the additional 11 positions was shown by revised enrollment estimates.

Three new teachers were employed by the board Monday night. Gilbert L. Beck of Alton, who presently is teaching there, was hired as a physical education instructor at Granite City High School/South.

Two students due to graduate from college this spring also were hired. They were Steve Brown, 2592 Waterman Ave., a senior at Murray State College, and Miss Deborah Stauffer of Gonsky, a senior at Illinois State University.

Both are to teach at GCHS/N. Brown in industrial arts and Miss Stauffer in home economics.

A leave of absence for the 1973-74 school year was granted to Mrs. Constance King, a girls' physical education instructor.

Humane group resets pet adoption clinic

A forecast of high winds and the prospect of hail forced postponement during the weekend of an outdoor pet adoption clinic planned by the Quad-City Association for the Protection of Animals. The adoption project has been rescheduled for Saturday from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at Aqua Land, 1233 Nineteenth St. Twenty-nine playful puppies and a number of frisky kittens will be offered for adoption Saturday, Miss Helen Groz, project chairman, said this week.

Pets available from the APA have received their initial de-fleaing shots, the humane group spokesman said. A minimal donation is required to adopt an animal, with the amount varying, she explained.

Funds collected in this manner help to pay the cost of inoculations and the remainder is added to the APA's public education fund. Members of the Student APA Club will assist at Saturday's adoption clinic, Miss Groz noted.

Special meeting set
The Venice Board of Education will hold a special meeting at 7 p.m. today to open bids on cafeteria equipment, John Pier, superintendent, announced.

Cougars not Cardinals but boast 11-1 record

Rainy weather has done what only one opponent has done this spring, stopped the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team.

The Cougar baseballers of Coach Roy E. Lee, now 11-1 for the season, were rained out of eight games last week, including two with University of Wisconsin Badgers, a pair with the Eastern Illinois University Panthers and four against Northwestern Illinois University.

Four of those games will probably be rescheduled.

A pair with Northeastern Illinois University has been slated for Sunday, April 29, at Cougar Field. A crucial game with the University of Missouri, St. Louis, is slated for Tuesday, May 15. Eastern Illinois has two tentatively rescheduled for Cougar Field Wednesday, May 16.

Four games have been rained out for good. In addition to those already mentioned, single games with Arkansas State University, Providence College and a pair with Wisconsin are definitely out and can't be rescheduled.

This week, the Cougars will meet an old and tough opponent, the St. Louis University Billies, in a twinbill Saturday at Cougar Field starting at 1 p.m.

Twelve game statistics show graphically why the Cougars are 11-1 and are ranked No. 8 in the nation in the NCAA college division. They are hitting a mind-boggling .344 average and their pitching staff has an almost unbelievable 1.38 earned run average.

Leading both the pitchers and batters is senior Ron Rohlfing, who is 3-0 on the mound and is hitting a stratospheric .500. Rohlfing's hits include a team-leading three home runs, Mike Dickey, the Flora (Illinois) Flash, who switched this season from pitching to the outfield and first base, is next at bat with a .417 average. But Peterson, Edwardsville, is clobbering the ball at a .382

Girls soccer league to open

Thirty-four teams have been organized for girls 8 through 17, including 23 in Granite City, four in Mitchell and seven in Collinsville.

Games will be played during the week and during weekends at the St. Elizabeth School field and at soccer fields at Mitchell and Collinsville. The schedule runs through June.

MHS tops Golf win Devils 1-0

A run in the fourth inning gave the Madison High School baseball team a 1-0 shutout victory over Venice as sophomore hurler Kevin Werner hurled a two-hitter yesterday on the Madison diamond.

Werner fanned eight batters and issued three walks, while the Venice Red Devil third baseman, freshman Reggie Gardner, touched him with both safeties, a single in the third inning and another in the seventh. Venice hurler J. B. Harmon was tagged for six hits.

The MHS Trojans played errorless ball. The Trojan run came in the fourth inning as Ron Jones walked, advanced to third on a single by Fred Wilson and crossed the plate as John Henke grounded out. A throw from third base to catch Jones at the plate was unsuccessful.

The Trojans stole five bases, with Ron McLaughlin and Fonzella taking two and Jay Greer one.

On Tuesday, the Trojans were defeated 9-3 by Lincoln at East St. Louis. McLaughlin was the losing pitcher. He was relieved in the fifth frame by Henke.

Cedric Wilson, freshman Trojan catcher, was the top batsman as he was credited with three of five MHS hits. He scored a run in the seventh inning. Mark Giles, another frosh, singled to drive Henke home with the other run in the seventh frame.

The action left Madison with a 4-8 record while the Red Devils are 0-3.

Venice is scheduled to play at Worden today and Madison is to be at Triad tomorrow.

News Notes

The Illinois Education Association yesterday praised a state Republican plan to pay back a $1.7 billion deficit in the Downstate Teachers' Pension Fund over 30 years.

A 15-year-old escapee from the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home who voiced threats to police was captured without incident Tuesday near an East Alton mobile home park. Two 16-year-olds who had fled with him early this week were caught minutes after the escape.

About 40 business and labor leaders questioned federal defense on airport planning at a monthly meeting yesterday of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority. Executive Director Arven H. Saunders reiterated that a decision is expected in the near future and noted that Illinois congressmen and senators are active in seeking Waterloo site approval.

Two Collinsville couples report they were terrorized Monday night when federal narcotics agents, apparently confusing the addressed, forced their way into the two homes and unsuccessfully searched for drugs. The armed agents were dressed like "hippies" and failed to identify themselves while manhandling the families, damaging property and cursing, it is contended.

Pittsburgh—Net income of $19,688,690, equal to $1.95 per share, was reported for the first 1973 quarter Wednesday by Chairman George A. Stinson of National Steel Corp. For 1972's comparable quarter, profit totaled $14,883,134, or 80 cents per share.

Stinson attributed the improved showing to record shipments for any first quarter, up 31% from last year.

Larry Anderson, Collinsville, will assume the management and operation of Midtown Pharmacy, 2651 Johnson Road, effective Saturday, it was announced today by Paul Schuler, an owner of the firm.

Anderson recently worked as a pharmacist at the Gen Store on Collinsville Road.

Prior to that, he was a pharmacist at Anderson's Pharmacy, operated by his father in Collinsville.

Island floods

The old Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge and the old Chain of Rocks Bridge.

The access road to the landfill was cut yesterday to equalize pressure on both sides of old Route 66 (Chain of Rocks Road) to save the roadway.

An Army Corps of Engineers spokesman said that had the river not topped the levees just south of Interstate 270, it might have reported to the local hospital for temporary flood housing.

Today he praised island residents and the volunteers who had joined in the attempt to save the island from flooding. "They fought a good battle," he said.

Sandbags filled by hundreds of volunteers at a sand pit near the island were transported downstream yesterday and this morning by the Corps of Engineers to help protect towns where the levees continue to hold.

At noon today, no one had yet reported to the local hospital for temporary flood housing.

Nearly all of Grafton has been flooded, as well as the river road between there and Alton, and sandbags are being piled in downtown Alton to protect stores. There also is concern at East St. Louis.

The Missouri side, hit worse than Illinois as the Missouri River joined the Mississippi in reaching record heights, experienced extensive flooding this week at St. Charles, Elsberry, Lemay area, Arnold, Crystal City, West Alton, River Des Peres, Festus, Ete. Genevieve and Cape Girardeau.

Gov. Daniel Walker estimates Illinois has $50 million flood damage and yesterday wired Pres. Nixon, urging prompt designation of the state as a major disaster area.

Dr. Robert Koepke, SIUE earth sciences associate professor, said special protection and consideration should be given to Missouri and Illinois areas near St. Louis due to the large size and full usage of floodplains. Clarence Martinko of San Diego, Calif.; seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Brave

use less than the amount of detergent the manufacturer suggests, avoid automatic dishwashers.

Don't water the lawn in summer, discourage street cleaning with water sprays, shovel away the snow and chip away the ice instead of using chemicals to melt.

You are permitted to use a little sand or cinders if you feel you just have to, but sweep up the residue when the walk is dry. Since most use of coal is discouraged, the source of the cinders remains a little mysterious.

As the EPA sees it, the world would be a less littered place if everyone avoided buying meat and produce pre-packaged in plastic, used washable table cloths, cloth handkerchiefs and cloth diapers, and saved all the wire clothes hangers, string, twine and wire around the house, to find new uses for them.

The folk who wrote the book would also like to see people stop using plastic or aluminum foil at all, going back to waxed paper and cellophane instead. It would be quieter in the EPA's ideal world, too.

Auto horns would be used only for safety warnings, home appliances would be used only when necessary, and no one would take a tape player, a radio or a portable tv to the park or beach.

Children wouldn't be bought noisy toys. (Nothing is suggested to guarantee getting non-noisy children.)

Citizens would request less use of emergency vehicle sirens and klaxons, and noisy factory signals would disappear. (Please have the boys in the boiler factory would whisper, "It's quitting time; pass it on.")

Insects would get a break—at a swat, instead of a squirt with an aerosol. In fact, all aerosol cans would become no-nos.

"Neon pollution" would dwindle in business districts, dilapidated buildings would be razed and the foundations filled in, some streets would be closed to vehicles and planted with vegetation instead, and "vest pocket" parks would blossom on empty lots everywhere.

"Significant portions of public parks (would) be left in their wild state—undeveloped, unbuilt or, unimproved, unmarked." But not, presumably, unzoned at during pollen season.

Neighbors and friends would share subscriptions, and junk mail would be refused.

In the cleaner atmosphere it will be easier to see, the better to observe violations by others and report them.

The ways and places to do so are itemized in the booklet, which also contains an address for use in having the reader's name added to the free mailing list for "Environment, Illinois," a monthly newsletter on environmental developments.

Sewer breaks

some instances in which open sewage has been discharged into the streets.

Council members have discussed a plan to award contracts for the sewer repairs on a cost-plus basis, but no definite action has been taken so far. Parton noted that repairing the sewer breaks "is a real expensive proposition and I'm afraid it is going to get worse."

He said Garrison told him that the river stage is level with the ground water table and that efforts to "de-water" the areas around the sewer breaks "is like trying to pump the river dry."

Mayor Donald Partney, who attended the last council meeting of his 26-year career as an alderman and mayor Monday night, suggested that the council begin considering a bond issue to rebuild the sanitary sewer system in the Nameoki area.

Partney was presented a plaque by Alderman Walter Nonn in behalf of the council members in appreciation of the mayor's long service. Nonn, the oldest council member in years of service, remarked to the mayor that "you and I represent nearly 60 years service on this council."

Partney commented that "we have had a number of arguments at times, but that is a sign this was no rubber stamp council." Directing his remarks to Mayor-Elect Paul Schuler, Partney said "You will have many heartbreaks and letdowns. I hope you can continue to operate the city in the black and I believe you will."

The council also presented a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Partney.

"The above stated course of action would remove the question of manipulation of the post-acting to provide privilege and can only serve to maintain public confidence in the administrative procedures of the Board of Education," Boyer stated in the letter.

A copy of a letter to Boyer from Alan Crider in response to Boyer's letter also was read by the board. In the letter, Crider said, "We feel that it is unfortunate that the local has injected itself in an attempt to influence the appointment of one of its members to position in the district."

"We have always been in the belief that the union should protect and defend its members rather than use its office to attempt to obtain preferential treatment for one member at the expense of others. Such conflicts can only serve to undermine the integrity and reputation of any union," Crider responded.

After the meeting, Boyer denied that the union was urging the appointment of any one member over Crider. He said when the position was posted by the board in schools, the requirements stated were too high for most teachers in the district, including Crider, to meet.

He said realistic requirements should be posted and all interested teachers should be given an opportunity to apply for the position.

May 1, 1973 could go down as one of the most important days in American history.

If, on May 1, the American people respond to the challenge of solving the problems in our judicial system, America's future might be a whole lot brighter.

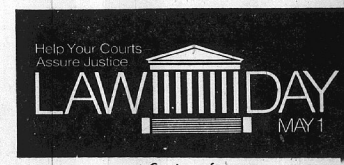

Because, in many parts of the country, our courts are bursting at the seams.

Caseloads have doubled and tripled over the past 10 years. The waiting period for cases to come to trial is often years. There are too few judges, undersized court staffs, inadequate facilities.

In short, the courts need help. From the legal profession, from the legislatures, from the public.

This year, Law Day focuses upon the problems and opportunities of our judicial system.

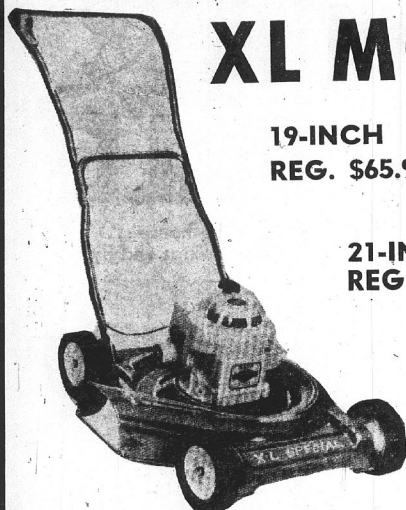

On May 1st, join Americans everywhere in observing Law Day to learn how you can help.

Attorney's salary held up in debate on court cases

The salary of City Attorney Leon Scroggins for the last half of this month was withheld from payment by the City Council Monday night as the result of a debate over the status of two circuit court cases involving two former Granite City police officers and substantial judgments against the city in both of those cases.

Scroggins' half-month salary of $546 was withheld from the regular payroll list on a motion by Alderman Sam Whitmer who stipulated as part of the motion that the salary not be paid until the attorney gives the council a satisfactory explanation of his handling of appeals in the two circuit court cases.

Whitmer noted that Scroggins was not present at the Monday night meeting "at a time when we're badly in need of legal advice," and added that "we're paying him for his services and not getting any."

Scroggins submitted his resignation as city attorney at the April 16 council session, but the council refused to accept it because, the aldermen contended, state law requires the city attorney to continue in service until a qualified successor is appointed.

Whitmer said the council particularly needed advice as to what it should do concerning two court rulings received by the aldermen Monday night, dismissing appeal procedures in circuit court cases—one involving Richard Bell and the other involving Louis Mank, both former members of the police department.

While circumstances differed in the two cases, both were dismissed by Circuit Judge Fred Schuman on grounds that required records, necessary to consideration by the Appellate Court, had not been filed within time limits specified by law.

Bell filed suit against Granite City on Oct. 22, 1971, following an injury which resulted in his being placed on a disability pension amounting to half of his salary. Bell contended that under city ordinances, the city was required to pay the other half of his salary.

The circuit court, on Aug. 15, 1972, held in Bell's favor and issued judgment against the city in the amount of $5,560 which the court said was due Bell up to that time. The city gave notice on Nov. 3, 1972, that it would appeal the ruling.

In this case, Judge Schuman held that a Supreme Court rule required the report of the proceedings to be filed within 49 days after the filing of the notice of appeal.

"This was not done, nor was any extension sought to file the report of proceedings," the ruling said.

The second case involved proceedings filed by Mank after he was discharged from the police department in December 1969. He sought reinstatement through a circuit court administrative review of the dismissal order by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

The circuit court upheld Mank and ordered his reinstatement. The Appellate Court in September 1972 reversed the circuit court in part and remanded the case back to the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners for reconsideration of two charges contained in the original case.

Mank meanwhile filed suit for back wages and in August 1972 obtained a circuit court judgment against the city for $29,774. The city filed notice of appeal on Nov. 29, 1972.

Judge Schuman again ruled that the "Defendant did not file a report of the proceedings in connection with the appeal, nor did it file record on appeal in time."

Alderman Gerald Parmley, noting that back wages and interest on the unpaid judgments already granted are continuing to mount, proposed settlement of the cases, but the council voted 11 to 2 against a motion by Parmley to that effect. Only Parmley and Alderman Claude Green voted in favor of settlement.

Instead, the council voted in separate actions to refer the Bell case to the newly reorganized council which will meet on May 7, while the Mank case was referred to the city attorney.

ENGAGED. Miss Debra Jean Moore and John Robert Markarian, whose engagement and wedding plans are being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto J. Moore of Ironton, Mo., former residents of Granite City.

DAR national event reviewed

The annual meeting of the Continental Congress of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution held in Washington, D.C., was the topic of a program presented by Mrs. Thelma Mollie for local DAR members.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Frohardt, 2445 State St., with Mrs. Daisy Reva Turner, regent, in charge.

Mrs. Mollie, who attended the national meeting, spoke briefly on the pageantry associated with the opening ceremony. She outlined resolutions passed during the Continental Congress and said official action taken on the issues will be related to chapters at a later date.

During the meeting Mrs. Eva Meier presented "The Easter Message" and Mrs. Margaret Bell read the president general's monthly letter. Mrs. Gladys Chapman and Miss Nelle Hart were in charge of the National Defense topics.

GOSPEL SINGING NIGHT SATURDAY AT GRACELAND

Ned Templeton and The Gospel Links of St. Louis will be featured in a "Gospel Singing Night" at 7:30 Saturday at Graceland General Baptist Church, 2033 Johnson Road.

The Rev. Harry Floyd, pastor, said the party is invited to attend the music program Saturday evening.

Pamela K. Kitchen wed in afternoon ceremony

Large bouquets of flowers in a profusion of colors and lighted tapers in tall candelabra provided the setting for the wedding of Miss Pamela K. Kitchen and Kenneth Dean McGee on April 7 at the Suburban Baptist Church.

The Rev. Bob Worley performed the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Miss Karen Ward sang "The Lord's Prayer," "The Wedding Song" and "Whither Thou Goest," accompanied by the church organist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Kitchen, 2117 Erln Drive. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McGee, Rural Route One, Granite City.

Maid of honor, Miss Karen Fisher, bridesmaids, Miss Becky Coker and Miss Kathy Petrovich, and the flower girl, Kristi Kitchen, a sister of the bride, preceded the bridal couple down the white carpeted aisle.

They were gown in colorful frocks in the pastel shades of mint green, pink and lilac, fashioned in a flared fabric. Rows of floral braid formed vertical designs on the bodices and lengthy full skirts.

A petite ruffle edged the high necklines and cuffs of the long sleeves. Each girl wore a flower beaded ribbon in her hair and carried long stemmed carnations with baby breath, festooned with ribbons to match her gown.

Debra J. Moore is bride-elect

Plans for a late summer wedding were disclosed with the engagement announcement of Miss Debra Jean Moore and John Robert Markarian by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto J. Moore of Ironton, Mo., formerly of Granite City. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John Markarian, 2105 Clark Ave.

Fellowship Day plans reviewed

The May Fellowship Day luncheon, to be sponsored by Quad-City Church Women United at Nantua United Methodist Church on May 4, was discussed at a meeting of the Sarah Circle of First United Presbyterian Church.

Fifteen members met at the church and were served refreshments by Mrs. Edith Chapman and Mrs. Mae Durham. A spring retreat will take place May 22 from 10 a.m. until noon at the First United Presbyterian Church. It was announced. Members voted to contribute to the Nearly New Clothing Center, a project of Church Women United.

Mrs. Ruth Lucas presented the devotional lesson taken from the book "Daily Celebrations." The "yearbook of prayer" was read by Mrs. Katherine Sims and Mrs. Anna Mae Weston led the "fellowship of the least coin" service.

The very full skirt of organza over taffeta extended into a cathedral-length train. A delicate decorative lace necklace with pink ribbon edged the neckline, formed the cuffs of the long full sleeves and marked the high rise waistline. Lace and floral motifs were applied at random on the skirt.

She wore a long triple tiered veil and held a Bible topped with Sweetheart roses and long streamers. Attending the groom as best man was Mike Emko. Groomsmen and ushers included Mike McGee, brother of the groom, Mark Senak, Vic Fernandez and Steve Laughlin.

Lighting the candles were Kim and Kathy Kitchen, sisters of the bride. Both mothers selected formal-length dresses with pink ribbon edged the neckline, formed the cuffs of the long full sleeves and marked the high rise waistline. Lace and floral motifs were applied at random on the skirt.

A reception for guests was hosted at the church immediately following the service. The rehearsal dinner was held at Tempel's Restaurant. After a wedding trip the newly married couple is now residing in Kankakee, Ill., where the groom is employed as manager of a Hill Brothers Shoe Store.

Both are graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Kitchen also attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

MISS BARBARA HUNT, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivrian Hunt, 4124 Kaseberg Lane, are announcing her engagement to Mike Kraus. A July 4 wedding is being planned by the couple.

Boyer infant is christened

Carrie Ann Boyer, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis L. Boyer, 3201 Bluebird Lane, was christened this week during noon services held at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. The Rev. Robert Becker officiated.

Godparents were the infant's aunt, Mrs. Marvin J. Boyer of Vandalia, and an uncle, Philip R. Boyer of Granite City.

After the church service a dinner was given by the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Steinhilber at their home, 1615 Lindell Blvd.

Guests attending were the infant's parents and brother, Dennis Boyer; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Marvin Boyer Sr. and sons, Philip and Steven Boyer; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Granger and sons of Fort Madison, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barrington and family of Mitchell; Mrs. Barrington of Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin J. Boyer and family of Vandalia; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Steinhilber.

The affair also marked the eighth birthday of Michael Boyer of Vandalia, a cousin of the infant honoree.

Among the gifts presented the child was a unique lace "hankie cap." The item, which was used at the christening and will be kept to be worn on the infant's wedding day, was a gift from the godmother.

Kinders return from Yugoslavia

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Kinder and daughter, Nancy, of 7 Frontenac Lane, have returned home from vacationing on the Dalmatian Coast of Yugoslavia. The local family stayed at Dubrovnik and visited other cities along the coast by boat and inland by motorcoach.

Facilities for the tourists were of the "finest," Mrs. Kinder reported. She added that the people were friendly and helpful to their American visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivrian Hunt, 4124 Kaseberg Lane, are announcing the engagement and forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Miss Barbara Hunt, and Mike Kraus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kraus, 3886 Lake St.

The bride-to-be is attending Granite City High School and the Granite City School of Beauty Culture.

Her fiancé, a 1966 graduate of Granite City High School, presently is employed at Malinkrodt Chemical Co.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple for a wedding on July 4.

Sacred Heart to mark centenary of Dominicans

A Mass of Thanksgiving will be offered at 11:45 a.m. Sunday, May 6, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church to commemorate the centenary of the founding of the order of the Dominicans in Illinois of the congregation of the Springfield Dominicans, who now staff the school.

The school, formerly St. Ann's, and area residents have been invited to attend the Mass that will be followed by an open house at the school and convent from 1 to 4 p.m.

During the open house hours, tea will be held in the school cafeteria hosted by the Rosary and Altar Societies of the church.

Students in the fifth through the eighth grades will present a special musical portion of the Mass and pupils representing all grade levels of the school will perform at a planned program at 2 p.m. in the school gymnasium. Sister Mary Karla is principal of the school.

The founding of the Dominican Sisters in Illinois will be observed at different times during the year in all cities and towns to mark the Sisters' 100 years of service in this state.

They began teaching at Sacred Heart in 1861 to replace the Pauline Order of Nuns. Mother Jeremiah, O.P., Mother

General, officially proclaimed the centenary immediately preceding the liturgy in the Motherhouse Chapel on the eve of the New Year.

"A Century of Serving" will be the theme of the year-long celebration that will honor St. Dominic, the Dominican Saints, and Illinois foundresses, according to the centenary planning committee.

The Dominican Sisters established themselves in Illinois in 1873 when six nuns from St. Catherine Sienna Convent in Springfield, Ky., went to Jacksonville at the request of Bishop Peter Baltes.

They established a Motherhouse and Novitiate two years later, to train religious women to serve the church, and began to staff the parish schools in Jacksonville, Carrollton, Mount Sterling, Paris, New Berlin, Panu and Carlinville.

The Illinois Legislature in 1884 chartered the Dominican Academy of St. Rose at Jacksonville as an institution of higher learning.

By 1893 the congregation had grown to 54 members and the Motherhouse and Novitiate were moved to the convent of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart at Springfield.

Business women hear GC police officer

Marking valuable possessions with a series of numbers as a means of identification should be the item stolen was advocated by Patrolman Roy J. Koberna, community relations officer for the Granite City Police Department, who spoke at a meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

About 60 attended the April dinner meeting at Charlie's Restaurant.

The officer demonstrated use of an electric engraving pencil, showed a film, "Operation Identification," and answered questions. He urged members to take part in the community-wide program and said the engraving equipment is available on loan from the police department.

Also speaking briefly to the business women was Richard M. Coleman, Gateway Loan Co. manager at Edwardsville, who discussed "Consumer Finance."

"Nike" awards were presented by Miss Annellen Smith to Mrs. Shirley Adams and Mrs. Rosemary Basden, winners in Classes I and II of the club's speaking field also were given to Mrs. Ann Burton, Mrs. Marie Symeek, Mrs. Becky Slate and Mrs. Sylvia Wright.

Mrs. Sandy Tadlock was presented a special award for an outstanding speech and a gift was awarded Miss Smith for coordinating the program.

Mrs. Rena James was inducted into the BPW club in a ceremony conducted by Mrs. Basden, second vice-president, assisted by Mrs. Emylee Alford.

The dinner was arranged by the club's Civic Participation Committee, consisting of Mrs. Tadlock, chairman, Mrs. Alford, co-chairman, and Mesdames Delores Allen, Lily Chaboude, Dorothy Hughes, Hilda Lombardi, Jeanette Sexton, Nancy Dietrich, Elvira Thurber, Marie Hampton, Bonnie Lazenby, Catherine Michel, Olive Wilson, Edna Kohlbrecher and Judy Stille.

What can be said of a man who gave his family so much. A man who took time to listen when no one else would. A man who understood when no one else could. A husband who always put his wife first. A father who held his children dear right from their birth. A grandpa who gave love to each one to all. A man of God's wisdom who heeded Christ's call. Some words can be said, yet we can't describe. A husband, a father, our grandpa who died. Missed by WIFE and FAMILY 33-4-26

EASTER THEME OF CLUB

Mrs. Louise Orr, 2344 Iowa St., entertained members of her card club. Winners of the evening's games were Mrs. Angie Hartman, first; Mrs. Celeste Johnson, second; Mrs. Alice Koesterer, third; and Mrs. Velma Radefeld, floater and consolation prizes.

Also attending were Mrs. Myrtle Bruns and Mrs. Loraine Menzie. Mrs. Hartman invited the group to her home for the next meeting.

The hostess served a dessert course and presented each guest with a candy-filled egg favor. A large bunny served as centerpiece.

EASTER SETTING AS CANASTA CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Ruth Sugg, 2130 Hamilton Ave., was hostess for the April meeting of the Canasta Club. An Easter motif was used for the decorations, and favors were Easter candies.

The club welcomed a new member, Mrs. Estelle Perkins, and a guest, Mrs. Delores Dorch. Prizes went to Mrs. Sue Busch and Mrs. Dorch.

Mrs. Estelle Perkins was presented a gift in observance of her birthday. The next meeting will be May 21 at the home of Mrs. Busch, 4600 Delynn. Others present were Mrs. Janey Heil and Mrs. Marilyn Durburrow.

SPEECH THERAPIST. Mrs. Clarice (Dameron) Lichtenberg, a former Granite City resident, assists two young pupils from the Washington School District in Phoenix, Ariz. The former Harris School faculty member directs a special program involving volunteer high school speech aides in the Phoenix system, the second largest school district in Arizona.

Former Madison teacher is project head

Mrs. Clrice (Dameron) Lichtenberg, a former Granite City and teacher at the Harris Grade School in Madison, is now involved in an intensive program aiding children to improve their speech problems through the use of volunteer speech aides in the Washington Elementary School District in Phoenix, Ariz.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the former resident attended Southwest Baptist Junior College in Bolivar, Mo., and was graduated from Northeast Missouri State College, Kirksville, Mo., with a degree in speech, hearing and language.

Mrs. Lichtenberg, a certified speech and hearing clinician, has completed graduate work at Illinois State University, Normal, Chicago Teachers College, Arizona State University and the University of Arizona.

She taught the third grade at the Madison school for two years before moving to Arizona with her husband, Larry R. Lichtenberg, a research and development engineer with Motorola Corp. in Scottsdale, Ariz., and their daughter, Julia-Isabel Lichtenberg, now a fifth grade pupil.

Mrs. Lichtenberg is the daughter of Mrs. Cora Dameron, owner of the Dameron Sheltered Care Home in Rockhouse, Ill., who now lives in Phoenix, and the late Leo Dameron.

A sister, Mrs. Shirley Ann Schwendemann, lives in Granite City and another sister, Mrs. Cora Lee Yaeger, resides in Phoenix.

Mrs. Lichtenberg is assisted in the school program by high school students who volunteer

Eta Chapter dinner party

Eleven members of Eta Chapter of Phi Tau Omega Sorority and a guest, Mrs. Mary Allen Seago of Beatty, Nev., were entertained Tuesday evening at the Wishing Well Restaurant in St. Louis.

Hostesses for the event were Miss Eunice Hatcher, Miss Dolores Sheridan, Mrs. Georgiana VanBuskirk and Mrs. Shirley Morgan.

After dinner cards were played and prizes were awarded to Miss Betty Krug, Mrs. Lorraine Butler, Mrs. Dorothy Costello and Mrs. Mary Evelyn Yench.

their time to work with children needing help with their speech.

The tutoring program is a thriving success, the speech therapist said. She explained that it works two ways, youngsters with speech problems learn to overcome them through the close attention and help of an older student, and the adolescent speech aides benefit tremendously from the satisfaction of helping others.

Mrs. Lichtenberg conducts the diagnosis work and provides speech correction techniques for each youngster, teaching them correct placement of the tongue, before they begin working with the youthful aides. Through use of the aides, each child is given more individual attention and the program enables the director to work with a larger number of children, she reported.

Hand puppets frequently are used to get a message across to the child, a technique especially appealing to the shy child, Mrs. Lichtenberg noted.

If possible, meetings are arranged with parents and occasionally an older brother or sister. Oftentimes an older child is very helpful to the youngster who is experiencing speech difficulties, the therapist said.

Six Quad-Cityans among GC Steel Co. retirees

Half of the employees retiring from Granite City Steel Co. during the past month were residents of the Quad-Cities, including four from Granite City.

The six included Paul Stairs, 4025 Kuseberg Lane, Knox Norfleet, 2409 Edwards St.; John Berres, 2541 Delmar Ave.; Ollis Turner, 3200 Davis Ave.; all of Granite City; Verna Lengyel, 1626 Second St., Madison; and Willard Bess, 428 Lincoln Ave., Venice.

The other six were Collinsville residents Walter Lehmann and Leo Cline; Benid residents James Wilson and Charles Makuh; Glen Carbon resident Bill Sedlack; and Nashville (Ill.) resident Fred LaCicero.

Paul Stairs retired on disability as annealing department coil checker after 20½ years of service with Granite City Steel. During his career he worked in yard maintenance, the open hearth, cold rolled shipping and annealing. He and his wife, Mated, have four sons and 11 grandchildren. The couple plans to move to Alton, Mo., soon.

Knox Norfleet, Basic Oxygen Furnace department laborer, retired after 31 years with the company. He was formerly a BOF third furnace man and also worked in the old open hearth. He and his wife, Helen, have two daughters and one grandchild.

John Berres retired as cold rolled finishing temper mill roller after almost 36 years of service with Granite City Steel. His family has a long history of mill employment — his father, Matthew, worked at GCS from 1904 until his retirement in 1908, and his grandfather, Peter, began working for the steel mill when it started up around the turn of the century.

Ollis Turner retired on disability from the roll shop department. He had 23 years of continuous service with the company, as well as two previous periods of service.

Verna Lengyel was a computer operator in the hourly payroll department when she retired after almost 22 years with GCS. A widow, she has one stepson, a grandson and a great-granddaughter.

Willard Bess retired as blooming mill roller after more than 37 years of service. He and his wife, Dorothy, live at 428 Lincoln Ave., Venice. They have five sons, two daughters, 12 grandchildren and one great-grandson. Bess's son, David, grandson Curtis Boworth and brother Howard all are GCS employees. Bess said he plans to move to Florida soon.

Walter Lehmann retired as electrician in the Electric Shop after 17 years with the company, serving in that same position during his entire GCS career. He and his wife, Beulah, live at 8 Miller Lane, Collinsville.

Leo Cline was a machinist and had 25 years of service with GCS, all in the machine shop. A son, Samuel, is also a Granite City Steel employee. Cline and his wife, Martha, who live at 224 South Chestnut, Collinsville, have two sons, a daughter, five grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

James Wilson retired as North Plant sheet handler after 18 years with the company, during which he spent all his time in the North Plant department. He and his wife, Julia, live at 207 W. Spruce, Benid.

Charles Makuh was a cold strip millwright helper prior to his disability retirement. He had been unable to work for the past several years. He started with GCS in 1953 in the cold strip finishing department and lives at 710 N. 9th St., Benid.

Bill Sedlack retired as general roll shop wheelabrator operator after 23 years of service with the company. He started with GCS in March 1950 working on the old plate side unit. The Glen Carbon resident has two sons, a daughter and two grandchildren.

Fred LaCicero, hot strip coil checker, retired after 23 years of service with Granite City Steel. A son, Fred Jr., is also a GCS man. LaCicero and his wife, Josephine, who live on Rural Route Two, Nashville, have two sons, three daughters and five grandchildren.

Creation of county public buildings commission seems justified

Formation of a Madison County public buildings commission, placed on first reading by the County Board at its April session, appears justified in view of the present Courthouse congestion.

Some board members and citizens who would prefer proceeding by referendum do not disagree with the objective which the five-member commission would be assigned—planning of additional governmental and court facilities.

As pointed out by the resolution to be considered for adoption May 16, present county buildings are no longer adapted or adequate to meet the needs of a growing population because of the age of the structures; the buildings are widely scattered, creating confusion and waste of time and effort; and public records currently are filed in many poorly protected and overcrowded places.

A counter-argument is that taxpayers will not and should not have to tolerate lavish spending. While this is true, the commission procedures include two safeguards—the five-member panel is to include persons with knowledge in real estate management, construction or finance, and any projects they propose are subject to Madison County Board approval or disapproval.

Permit for secondary treatment provides much-needed approval

Issuance of a state permit to construct a 23-million-gallon Granite City secondary sewage treatment plant is a big step in the right direction.

It was important that the permit be granted, enabling construction and funding arrangements to proceed, since there is intense state pressure to have the plant built and placed in operation promptly. It will further purify water discharged into the Mississippi River.

The capacity seems justified despite the shutdown of the Corn Sweetener plant, a major contributor to the sewer lines leading to the treatment site. The scheduled size provides a necessary cushion to accommodate whatever industrial, commercial and residential growth occurs in future years.

It has been a paradox that government at the state and federal levels have been the main party prodding the city to hurry with the plant, while at the same time blocking treatment expansion until the high government officials represented by State and Federal representatives. The "squeeze play" on the municipality now may be at an end. Unfortunately, the unjustified delay of many months which was forced on the city has held up the project so long that there has since been a cutback in federal water pollution control financing.

Wording of pact for 'politically loyal' staff raises question

The political loyalty provision of an agreement with employees of the Madison County circuit court clerk poses an interesting problem—how to extend job security and other benefits while not allowing one's staff to aid one's election opponent.

The state has a more or less clear demarcation between workers who have permanent civil service status and those whose jobs are subject to the re-election of their employer or his party.

The trend in the past decade has been toward fewer jobs in the frankly patronage category, although normal attrition and firings-for-cause usually entitle the party in power to satisfy many of its friends.

Whether Madison County Courthouse officials, the County Board and those represented by State and Federal and Municipal Employees Local 799 will be able to "have their cake and eat it, too" remains to be seen. The current attitude places emphasis on pay, leave, vacation, dues, seniority and grievance rules.

EGG HUNT BEGAN EARLY, DISAPPOINTED CHILDREN

To the Editor:

Downtown merchants at Granite City sponsored an Easter egg hunt for the children of this area April 21. The hunt, as advertised in the Press-Record, was due to be from 2 to 3 p.m.

Being, I hope, a responsible parent, I arrived at five minutes till 2 o'clock, making sure I was not so early that my two small children would become restless while waiting.

Upon our arrival, we found that the Easter egg hunt was already over and pictures were being taken of the winners.

Needless to say, my children were very disappointed. A number of other parents with their children were arriving at the scheduled time also, and found that they, too, were "too late."

Is it too much to expect for an event to begin at the scheduled time?

Were the nerves of our merchants beginning to fray around the edges from trying to restrain the children from starting too early, and so they gave up and "let the show go on?"

If this was the case, maybe merchants should get some more restraining orders on their children, teach their children some manners. If it wasn't the reason, then how about starting at the indicated time next year?

CENTENNIAL RECALLS VENICE'S EARLY YEARS

To the Editor:

I have nostalgic memories of Venice (the Venice municipal centennial will be June 28).

Our family lived in Venice starting when I was three or four years old.

I can remember the dike breaking in 1903 and water coming up to the middle shaft of windows in our new home on Third Street, the second house off the Rock Road.

My father was a contractor and builder.

A few weeks ago I tuned in television and saw that the Venice basketball team was in the Illinois state tournament, I

READY FOR TAKE-OFF. Dr. Robert Jacoby, an Alton dentist, acts as the "control tower" as he sends radio instructions to his model airplane to take off from a field on the Southern Illinois University campus at Edwardsville. Dr. Jacoby is a member of the East Side Radio Control Club, a hobby group which uses the area provided by SIUE between the soccer and baseball fields on Bluff Road.

Two GC students on scholars' honor roll

About 2,000 Southern Methodist University students have been recognized publicly for the past semester's academic achievements, including two students from Granite City.

Among those whose names have been published in SMU's

SIP office lively in aiding SIUE students

Boredom is a word Mrs. Lula Lockett rarely uses to describe her activities since she became director of the Supplemental Instructional Program (SIP) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville two years ago.

"Things are always changing here, and I like the independence and freedom the university offers," Mrs. Lockett said. SIP is a special program at SIUE available to minority and disadvantaged students, and students on academic probation. Services offered by SIP include academic advisement and counseling, a special summer orientation program, student recruitment and job placement services for students who need special help in finding job possibilities for on-the-job training.

Mrs. Lockett believes the informal atmosphere in the SIU office makes students feel more at ease about asking for help. Students can come and go as they please here, but they must also work within certain guidelines, Mrs. Lockett said.

"My basic philosophy as director of SIP has been to try and motivate students to see themselves as they really are. Some students are on the right track but just need to clarify things in their own minds," Mrs. Lockett said.

To help students clarify things in their minds the SIP office also provides a develop-

One of the most important functions of SIP is to help students achieve academic independence, according to Mrs. Lockett. "Some students have

New Jamaican reggae sound gains popularity

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

The music is reggae. It was born of fierce love and deep hatred mated in the souls of angry Jamaican slum dwellers. Reggae is easily identified by the hesitating rhythm and heavy bass. The beat is a brisk sort of hip catyso sound that the well coordinated will dig dancing to. Reggae is new music but its popularity is increasing fast and steadily.

"Jimmy Cliff in The Harder They Come," on Mango Records exemplifies the background and the musical essence of reggae, but you can already hear it in a few popular American and English cuts. "The Harder They Come" is the original sound-track recording from the movie of the same name.

The music—and movie describe some of the aspects of everyday life in the crime-filled, barefooted slums of West Kingston, Jamaica. The culture, emotions and courage of a people who have got it tough are expressed in this music.

"The Harder They Come" will tell you what it's all about, and many thanks go out to musicians like Jimmy Smith for bringing reggae "overground" and making people aware that Jamaican music exists in its own right.

Noel Coward — the words fall readily in place; debonair, sophisticated, multitalented and relentlessly, above all, witty. The long and lustrous career of the celebrated Englishman, who died recently, is swept up into one tidy little package in the London production of "Cowardly Custard" at the Mermaid theater.

The original cast recording now has been released by RCA in a two-record set (LSO-6010).

There are bits and pieces of Coward's music starting with the Roaring Twenties and continuing into the sixties. Included from the 1930s are two of Coward's best known songs: "Mad About The Boy" (done enchantingly in the voices of society woman, schoolgirl, Cockney and tart) and "Mad Dogs and Englishmen." A rare treat for Coward fans.

For jazz fans, there are two new albums by Verve that should be of special interest: "The History of the Real Billie Holiday" and "The History of Ella Fitzgerald." As the titles imply, both of the two-record sets offer what are considered some of the best songs ever sung by the two great singers. "All of Me," "I Cried For You," and "My Man" are among those that the late Miss Holiday sings in her inimitable style. She once said, "I can't stand to sing the same song the same way two nights in succession let alone two years or 10 years. Ella's renditions of "Mack the Knife," "Old MacDonald Had A Farm" and "Hello Dolly" show the wide range of her artistry.

A big bass beat and smooth brassy tones are what you hear in The Crusader's latest album, "The 2nd Crusade," on Blue Thumb Records. The music is mature cool, brought to you by guys who are mellow experts in their field. The two-record set includes such songs as "A Search For Soul," "Tough Talk," "Journey From Within," "Look Beyond The Hill," "Don't Let It Get You Down," and "A Message From The Inner City."

TAPE TALK: Fans of the classics will be ecstatic with London's two-ree "San Francisco Opera Gala." Recorded by the Dolby system of four track 7 and one-half IPS stereo, the voices and musical accompaniment are clear and true; the fidelity is fantastic. Nothing that could be written about this "Gala" could recommend it more than a partial listing (for lack of space it is approximately a four-hour entertainment) of the program.

The quality of the selections and the excellence of the artists are praise enough: "Ella's Dream," from Wagner's "Lohengrin" — Kirsten Flagstad; Just Bjørling singing "Di tu se fodeli" from "Un Ballo in Maschera" by Verdi; "Ciel mio padre" from Verdi's "Aida," sung by Leontyne Price and Leonard Warren.

And there are selections from Bizet's "Carmen," Mozart's

"Die Zauberflöte," Beethoven's "Fidelio," Bellini's "Norma," and more and more. Truly, an acquisition for the music library of anyone who enjoys opera.

Another excellent tape for classics buffs in Archive Production's "66 Concerti Grossi Op. 3" by Georg Friedrich Handel, performed by the Münchener Bach-Orchester directed by Karl Richter.

The music is an impressive sampling of the skill which Handel brought to instrumentation, and the varying moods and movements of the episodes attest to his vast imagination. Karl Richter has directed the Münchener Bach-Orchester in a sensitive, expert rendition of these diversified movements. The fidelity of the four-track 7 and one-half IPS stereo tapes by Amplex are superb.

Financier Nimmo surrenders on 5 income tax counts

Leslie W. Nimmo, 68, of Springfield, a part owner of the Chokila Downs Race Track, surrendered Monday to special agents of the Intelligence Division, Internal Revenue Service, at the U. S. Marshall's office, Springfield.

A federal grand jury at Springfield had returned a five-count indictment April 8, 1973, charging Nimmo with subscribing to false personal income tax returns for 1966, 1967 and 1968, and with subscribing to false corporate income tax returns for two investment corporations, Teachers Finance Co. and First Teachers Investment Corp., for the fiscal year ending in 1968. The indictment was supposed pending his arrest.

Donald B. Mackay, U. S. Attorney for the Southern District of Illinois, and Leon C. Green, district director of Internal Revenue for Central and Southern Illinois, announced that the grand jury had charged Nimmo with falsifying:

1. Deducting losses totaling $888,004 on his personal returns for 1966 and 1967, a substantial portion of which he allegedly did not believe to be deductible.

2. Failing to report capital gains on his personal returns totaling $241,670 for the three-year period.

3. Deducting a capital loss carryover of $22,785 on his personal return for the year 1967 from more than $600,000 of the cost basis of real estate listed as Georgia farms on his 1968 personal return.

The grand jury also charged that Nimmo had deducted an aggregate capital loss carryover of almost one million dollars on the Teachers Finance and First Teachers Investment Corp. returns for the accounting and tax year ending in 1968, whereas allegedly Nimmo knew that more than $600,000 of this amount was not deductible.

Nimmo, a native of Wagoner, Ill., was formerly a teacher at Springfield High School and is also an attorney and member of the Illinois Bar.

He was the founder and first manager of the IEA (Illinois Education Association) Mutual Insurance Co. and later the Horace Mann Companies, and he was considered the guiding force behind the companies from their inception.

The Horace Mann Companies have become the largest insurer in the world of teachers and their families, and of students.

The company was originally organized and operated by teachers. But Nimmo's active association with Horace Mann was terminated in 1963.

During the period under investigation, Nimmo was also the president of Putnam Dyes, Inc., Quincy, Ill., a nationwide distributor of household dyes, and chairman of the board of Life Insurance Company of the West, Denver, Colo.

He is also a stockholder in the First National Bank in Springfield, the Land of Lincoln Bank, Springfield, and Cahokia Downs.

Nimmo has held substantial interest in Monroe Chemical Co. de Mexico, a Mexican corporation that distributes household dyes, Great States Securities, Inc., Nimmo & Associates, Inc., and the Lincoln Life Insurance Co.

Nimmo is president and chief executive officer of Teachers Finance Co. and First Teacher Investment Corp.

He was formerly chief executive officer and chairman of the board of the Great States Life Insurance Co., Quincy, Nimmo

Law Day observance to be held May 1 in area

Law Day USA will be observed in the Quad-Cities and Madison County on Tuesday, May 1, with formal ceremonies, programs and talks.

This year Law Day will concentrate on the role of the judicial branches of the government, state and federal courts.

Groups wishing to obtain speakers pertaining to Law Day may contact William J. Mateyka of Calvo, Mateyka & Hill, president of the Tri-City Bar Association, or Gary Grammer of Bernard & Davidson, chairman of the observance.

Local schools also are planning observances and proclamations are to be issued. The Tri-City Bar, in cooperation with the Madison County Bar and the Alto-Wood River Bar, will join legal secretaries in the county in presenting a mock trial at 7 p.m. next Monday on the third floor of the county courthouse at Edwardsville in observance of Legal Secretaries Day. Circuit Court Judge William Beatty will preside.

Law Day USA is set aside on May 1 each year by joint resolution of Congress and Presidential proclamation as "a special day of celebration by the American people in appreciation of the liberties" and as an occasion for "rededication to the ideals of equality and justice under law."

The primary purpose of the observance is to dramatize the values of living under a system of law and independent courts that protect individual freedom, and make possible a free society.

To this end, more than 25,000 individual Law Day programs are held throughout the nation on or near May 1 in schools, courthouses, churches and before organizations of all kinds.

The objectives of Law Day are to advance equality and justice under law, to encourage citizen support of law observance and law enforcement and to foster respect for law and understanding of its essential place in the life of every citizen of the United States.

He said this act will enable small businessmen to compete for state business by restricting bidding only to these groups.

For the first time, the Illinois Department of General Services will be seeking bids for work on state property using the guidelines of the Illinois Small Business Purchasing Act.

The Procurement Division of the department will seek bids for janitorial services at the Regional State Office Building, 5415 N. University, Peoria, and the electronic data processing room in the State Office Building, Springfield, according to Bill Gray, small business specialist.

He said this act will enable small businessmen to compete for state business by restricting bidding only to these groups.

The case was presented to the grand jury by Mackay.

Small businessmen to bid on state jobs

For the first time, the Illinois Department of General Services will be seeking bids for work on state property using the guidelines of the Illinois Small Business Purchasing Act.

The Procurement Division of the department will seek bids for janitorial services at the Regional State Office Building, 5415 N. University, Peoria, and the electronic data processing room in the State Office Building, Springfield, according to Bill Gray, small business specialist.

He said this act will enable small businessmen to compete for state business by restricting bidding only to these groups.

Former senator pleads guilty to evasion of taxes

Paul Ziegler, 61, a former Illinois state senator from Carlin, pleaded guilty Monday to one count of income tax evasion for the year 1970.

Henry A. Schwarz, U. S. Attorney for the Eastern Judicial District of Illinois, and Leon C. Green, district director of Internal Revenue for Central and Southern Illinois, had announced that Ziegler was indicted June 2, 1972, by a federal grand jury sitting at East St. Louis.

Ziegler, who made an unsuccessful bid for re-election to the Illinois Senate in 1970, reported a joint taxable income for 1970 of $8,009 but his correct joint taxable income was $16,524. It was contended. The additional taxable income was attributed to a capital gain of $17,000 resulting from sale of Washington Park Trotting Association race track stock.

Ziegler was employed by Paul Powell in the Archives Records Management Division of the Secretary of State's office from January 1967 until November 1970, when his employment was terminated.

The case was presented by Assistant U. S. Attorney Jack A. Strickland, based on evidence developed by special agents of the IRS Intelligence Division.

Steel imports maintain record-setting pace

PARKED AUTOS STRUCK

When the accelerator struck, an auto driven by Hazel Scaglione, 1889 Joy Ave., struck an auto owned by Charles Moulton, 1940 Joy Ave., knocking it into the rear of another car owned by Moulton parked in front of his home on Monday.

BURGLARY AT SCHOOL

Burglars entered Grigsby Junior High School by breaking a library window, tore a public address system from the wall, damaged two dictionaries, broke several plants and broke a fish bowl, killing some gold fish, it was reported Monday.

Foreign steel mill products entered the United States at a record-breaking rate during the first two months, of 1973, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Government data show that, after establishing a new record for January, steel imports reached 1,306,000 tons the following month. This was their highest February total ever, and increased total foreign mill product imports during the first two months of this year to 2,687,000 tons, or 20.9% more than the 2,225,000 tons imported in the comparable period of 1972.

The previous February steel import record of 1,068,000 tons was set in 1968 when consumers were sockpunching against the possibility of a domestic steel strike.

The declared value of the foreign steel reaching this country also continues to climb. Through the first two months of this year, it averaged $186.81 per ton, or $11.68 per ton more than the $156.93 per ton average declared value for steel mill products imported during the same period of 1972.

Contributing to the substantial jump in this year's steel imports were large comparative increases in imports of foreign wire rods, structural shapes, hot rolled bars, pipe and tubing and sheets and strip.

Stainless steel imports through February were down 21.8% from their 1972 total, primarily because of a 31.1% drop in Japanese shipments, and a 26.9% decline in imports from Sweden. Overall, however, imports from Swedish steel producers were up by nearly one-third. Alloy steel imports were up 38.4% compared with the first two months of last year, while the rest of the world also was sharply accelerating its steel exports to this country. By the end of February, they had reached 686,681 tons, or 33.1% more than their January-February, 1972, total of 497,975 tons.

The surge in steel shipments from Korea continued, as that nation sent 121,000 tons into this country during the first two months of this year. That was nearly three and one half times the amount of steel received from Korea mills in the same period of last year.

Other developing nations are now sending the United States substantial quantities of steel. Shipments from Argentina, for example, were more than 53,000 tons through February, compared with less than 23,000 tons in the first two months of last year. Brazil, enjoying one of the most dynamic economic growth rates in the world, exported over 41,000 tons of steel months of 1973, a gain of 9.7% over the 894,000 tons arriving from these nations in the comparable period of last year.

The rest of the world also was sharply accelerating its steel exports to this country. By the end of February, they had reached 686,681 tons, or 33.1% more than their January-February, 1972, total of 497,975 tons.

Imports into the Gulf Coast-Mexican border region totaled 844,000 tons, or 35.2% more than last year's comparable total of 624,000 tons. Foreign steel shipments into the Pacific Coast were 618,000 tons through February, a gain of 44.1% from the 429,000 tons received there in the first two months of 1972.

PARKED AUTO STRUCK

An auto driven by Freida L. Ford, East St. Louis, backed into the parked car of Clarence Sherman, 849 Niedringhaus Ave., this week at Niedringhaus Avenue and Olive Street.

Two get supervisory posts with McDonald's

James Burns and James Steele have been promoted to supervisory positions with the McDonald's Hamburger Restaurant System.

Burns, of Collinsville, Ill., has been named general operations supervisor and is in charge of standard store operations and promotions. He joined McDonald's in 1967 and was general manager of several McDonald's stores prior to his promotion.

Steele, who has assumed the position of supervisor and personnel training director, formerly was general manager of the McDonald's Restaurant in Granite City.

Both men presently are engaged in coordinating store activities in the Illinois area. New positions were created to give McDonald's an improved approach to customer satisfaction.

LIQUOR CHARGES FILED

Ronald Kries, 26, manager of Oonk's Drive-In Liquors, 28th Street and Madison Avenue, was arrested this week on two counts of unlawful sale of alcoholic liquor to minors. He was released on notice to appear on May 17.

BACKS INTO AUTO

An auto driven by David W. Senior, 4124 North Drive, backed into the left rear of the auto of Shirley T. Sullivan, 1716 Ferguson Ave., parked on a lot at 3208 Maryville Road this week.

TIRES, WHEELS SLASHED

Two tires on the car of Bruce Bennett, 809 Franklin St., Venice, were slashed while the car was parked in the 1000 block of Douglas Street in Venice this week.

TIRES, WHEELS STOLEN

Two rear tires and wheels valued at $150 were stolen from a 1970 auto at Blake Auto Sales, 1733 Madison Ave., during the weekend, it was reported Monday.

State budget battle focuses on education and public aid

Copley News Service
Springfield—The big battle of the budget is beginning.

As Illinois legislators return to Springfield after the Easter vacation, they are giving serious attention to Gov. Daniel Walker's proposed $7 billion budget.

Some Republicans are determined to tear it to pieces. GOP leaders have made no bones about the fact that they consider it a sham and a phony and inadequate to meet the needs of the state for the coming fiscal year starting July 1.

Walker fought a verbal battle with the Illinois press when it questioned his budget in terms of only slightly more temperate than those being voiced by Republican lawmakers. The governor is equally determined to take on his GOP critics.

But while the state's press could only praise or criticize the budget, the legislators have the power to cut and change it and, by doing so, virtually render Walker impotent as governor. This could happen.

While it will be primarily a Republican versus Walker fight, some Democratic legislators also view the Walker budget as unrealistic and perhaps misleading.

Some of the Capitol's career professionals are saying privately that the budget as it now stands won't work and could lead the state government into chaos.

There are two major areas where great differences have developed and it is around these issues that the battle will be largely fought. They are education and welfare.

State School Supt. Michael J. Bakalis, like Walker a Democrat, has consistently attacked the proposed outlays for education and appears determined to make an effort to have them boosted by the legislature.

John Corbally, president of the University of Illinois, is leading a drive by large and established universities for a bigger than proposed slice of the higher education pie.

But it's welfare that may scuttle the entire budget. Senate President and Majority Leader William C. Harris, Pontiac Republican, insists that the governor is way short in his public aid figures and that a deficiency of more than $100 million, perhaps much more, is likely. Spending for public aid has now approached the $1.5 billion-a-year mark.

Harris is considered knowledgeable in budget matters and his views on the public aid proposals are in close agreement with estimates made by the financial staff of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce. Chamber figures show Gov. Walker short by $121.8 million of probable welfare spending for the new fiscal year.

However, a recent development...

'Legal 10' test spotlights 'Law Day' on May 1

May 1 is "Law Day" in the U. S. — the day set aside by joint resolution of Congress and Presidential proclamation as a "special day of celebration by the American people in appreciation of their liberties."

State Budget Director Harold Hovey estimates the current Illinois proportion at 7%; whether a recently named Walker task force can cut it down to 3% remains uncertain.

Illinois benefits most from federal grants in the Aid to Dependent Children program. The importance of this help reflected in the $47.6 million paid out by the state for ADC in January alone. The federal government supplied half of this money.

State to collect forged check money

Comptroller George W. Lindberg said today he has developed a process that will permit the state to collect a $200,000 backlog from 2,000 fraudulently cashed state checks.

The money now can be collected by the state treasurer from the person who cashed the checks for the forger," Lindberg said, "because the second endorser is liable."

"We worked closely with the treasurer's bank division to eliminate this problem and a new process was developed in the comptroller's office by our personnel to allow the treasurer to clearly pinpoint the second endorser."

Interests $1,000 monthly in "perch" was lost during the backlog period," Lindberg said, "because the state could not collect money was entitled to, then invest it appropriately."

The backlog will be eliminated by mid-May, the comptroller said. Federal Reserve Bank personnel in Chicago have approved methods used to solve the second endorser readability problem. Most of the state checks involved cleared through the Federal Reserve System.

Lindberg said he is investigating microfilm techniques to prevent any future backlog on state collection of forged check money.

Origin of the backlog was microfilm record equipment put into use 18 months ago that did not yield a photographic reproduction sufficiently clear to identify the second endorser on a check, Lindberg said.

Mayor-elect Schuler to lead May 5 pet parade

Mayor-Elect Paul Schuler of Granite City has accepted the title of honorary parade marshal for the second annual "Pet Parade" to be sponsored Saturday, May 5, by the Quad-City Association for the Protection of Animals.

The parade starts at noon, May 5, at Civic Park in the 1300 block of Niedringhaus Avenue and concludes at Wilson Park, where pets will be judged for good grooming qualities and control. Winning entries will receive ribbons and trophies.

Mrs. Pam Dickey and Mrs. Judith Johnson of the humane group said organizations and business firms are invited to enter floats in the parade. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Dickey at 797-0185.

Children may parade with their pets wearing costumes. However, a costume is not mandatory to be a participant, the organizers said.

All pets must be under firm control at all times and are required to be leashed if not in some type of container, Mrs. Dickey said. It is suggested that children wishing to display cats, take their animals directly to the Wilson Park judging area and not march along the parade route.

Mrs. Johnson said Mayor-Elect Schuler and members of his family are expected to lead the parade.

HOME BURGLARIZED

Eight cans of beer were taken in a burglary at the home of Diane Curtman, 22 Fontainebleau Drive, Pontoon Beach, which was discovered during the weekend. Entry was gained by tearing a window screen and breaking a sliding window.

Air traffic control jobs to be discussed

A group meeting will be held in the Placement Office at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on May 2 for students interested in pursuing careers as air traffic control specialists.

According to David R. Van Horn, director of the SIUE Placement Office, William D. Olson, chief of tower operations at Civic Memorial Airport in East Alton, will be available beginning at 5 p.m. to discuss opportunities and requirements with students.

Those who have a degree or expect to receive a degree in June or September and are interested in talking with Olson may sign a group meeting list at the Placement Office in the basement of the General Office Building.

Army Pvt. John E. Morrison, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Morrison, 2428 Grand Ave., recently completed an eight-week military police course at the U. S. Army Training Center, Ft. Gordon, Ga.

During the course, he was trained in civil and military law, traffic control, patrolling, techniques of quelling riots and disturbances, prisoner-of-war control, communications, care and use of authorized weapons and unarmed defense methods.

Morrison is a 1970 graduate of Granite City High School.

RESPONSE OF THE DAY was given by Eagle Scout Michael Siebert of Explorer Post 10-4, sponsored by the Madison Lions Club and Police Department, on behalf of the 1973 Arthur D. Roseman class of Eagle Scouts at the Eagle Scout recognition dinner Monday in the Granite City Elks Lodge.

Lybarger visits medical school campus at SIUC

Jeffrey Allen Lybarger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Lybarger, 1825 Primrose Ave., was among 42 members of the first freshman class of the School of Medicine, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, who made their first official visit to the SIUC campus in late April for an open house sponsored by the Office of Student Affairs.

The first year of the medical school's three-year program will be at Carbondale, where students will receive their basic sciences instruction. The second and third years will be in Springfield.

There will be 48 students in the first-year class when instruction begins in June. Forty-seven have been accepted. The 48th will be selected from the School of Medicine's alternate list. An advanced class of 24 will begin clinical instruction in Springfield in September with the first graduation scheduled for June 1975.

The Carbondale class of accepted students, all Illinois residents, includes seven women. Students looked at the medical school facilities, met with faculty members and toured Doctors Hospital at Carbondale, the Carbondale Clinic and the Veterans Administration Hospital at Marion, all affiliated with the school.

"There is a feeling of excitement around here," Dean Richard May of the School of Medicine said, "not only because we are at the point where we have students, but also because we know more students will come after those, and more after them, I'm elated."

Job market better in foreign language field

Foreign language students and teachers from high schools, community colleges and universities in Southern Illinois and Missouri were challenged at a Foreign Language Career Conference "to use foreign languages to expand their options in an ever-shrinking job market."

The conference, sponsored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's department of foreign languages, was held in the Communications Building theater.

"Fields are wide open even in this era of tight employment," declared Loyal Gould, chairman of the Journalism department at Wichita State University, "if foreign languages are used as a vocational tool."

As keynote speaker, Gould drew upon his experiences as journalism professor, foreign language teacher, reporter, and foreign correspondent for major news bureaus, for his address to the conference.

He condemned current instructional methodology and rationale as short-sighted, and relevant only for students who submit themselves to being carbon copies of their instructors by getting a Ph.D. in philology and going out to teach literature.

"If foreign language becomes a vocational tool, graduating students can use this tool to break out of the confines of the government or travel industry ghetto that the language student is relegated to if he does not want to teach," Gould said.

"At the risk of being heretical, I think that while the foreign language requirement is all to the good, there is nothing like canceling that requirement to bring the language instructor back to the academic market place," stated Gould. "We teachers need that impetus to give our students foreign languages as a vocational tool."

Taking his field as an example of the need for people with foreign languages, he declared, journalists need people with a sympathy for foreign people. "Nowhere else can you get this sympathy and be able to communicate it than by mastering a foreign language."

"Now I have been in Saigon to report the body count during the Vietnamese war, but journalism offers far better assignments around the world to those who master a foreign language and use it as a vocational tool."

Journalism is one of the fastest growing professions. However, we have only 300 foreign correspondents, and by this mean skilled diplomatic correspondents."

Gould told of a survey made among the foreign news editors and foreign correspondents. First, he talked to foreign news editors about the qualifications of people working as foreign correspondents. Of the foreign news editors, 97% indicated they were looking for a good police reporter.

However, Gould said, "When I talked to actual foreign correspondents out in the field, I discovered that...these people had a heavy academic emphasis on foreign languages. In effect, the people that the foreign news editors thought they were hiring as foreign correspondents and the people they actually hired were miles apart in qualifications."

As an indication of the desperate demand for foreign cor-

Of the amount, more than $1,624 was collected in Granite City and more than $87 was contributed in Madison and Venice, Mrs. Trower reported that returns are incomplete and the total should top the $1,800 mark.

Drive to cite constructive role of private enterprise

"More than 20,000 Illinois businessmen are going to stand up and speak out for business—to tell the true story of private enterprise and its constructive role in society—starting right now."

With that declaration, the first phase of a three-year program to tell the positive story of business and the free enterprise system was launched in late April by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Announcing the opening of the campaign at a press conference in Chicago, Lester W. Brun Jr., State Chamber president, also released results of a statewide opinion survey of Illinois citizens. The survey re-informed previous opinion polls conducted on a national basis which reported a strong anti-business sentiment on the part of the American people.

He noted the ISCC survey and others show Americans have the knowledge or understanding about how the free enterprise system works and have many misconceptions about profits, taxes and the role of business in society today.

Branst said, "Business is partially to blame because it has not performed well in educating the American people so they have a clear understanding and appreciation for their own free enterprise system. But the big 'put down' of business and the American system of free enterprise is over. The silent victim, the businessman, is going to stop being silent."

The campaign, "Stand up for business," will seek to correct misconceptions in the public's mind.

A kit, "Profits Mean Paychecks," to be distributed to ISCC businessmen throughout the state, contains resource material and practical tools to communicate the positive side of the business story to employees and citizens.

Topics include what happens to profits, how much business pays in taxes, what companies pay in fringe benefits, and Illinois' economic climate and employment opportunities.

The kit also contains a booklet, "If Business Is Your Bag—Say So Out Loud," giving case histories on how companies have met corporate social responsibility.

The first phase will be followed with a local-level community action program to include an audio-visual presentation for use by local chambers, civic and service organizations. A speaker's bureau is to be set up to function on a statewide level.

Future plans call for a classroom campaign to communicate the positive side of the story of business to teachers and students, and a statewide public education campaign through communications media and public exhibits.

William Bissell, 2409 Edison Ave., was driving a Yellow Cab in East St. Louis Monday when a man entered, held a knife to his throat and said, "Don't move or I'll cut your throat."

The man took $48 from him and then told him, "Ease yourself out real slow," Bissell reported. The man then fled in the taxi.

Another Yellow Cab Co. driver, Pat Green, 1338 Nineteenth St., reported he picked up two men in Brooklyn who held a knife to his throat in the 1600 block of Collinsville Avenue in Madison at 11 p.m. Monday and took $30 from him.

He said one man told him to get out, "walk toward the projects and don't turn around." They then fled in his cab. The taxi was recovered a short time later by Venice police in the 1600 block of Klein Street in Venice.

BOATING PARTY in the yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stomum. Rural Route Two, in the area of Interstate 270 and Route 3 where water backed in to a depth of three feet. An Easter egg hunt had been scheduled to be held in the yard.

Water floods yard, egg hunt called off

What had been planned as an Easter egg hunt turned out to be a boating party for children residing in the area of Route 3 and Interstate 270.

Water backed in from three directions and flooded the yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stomum, Rural Route Two, to depths of up to three feet, it was discovered Easter morning.

The water came from two ponds swelled by rains and through a pipe under the interstate highway. Fish were dying in the grass as the water receded this week.

Eggs had yet to be placed in the area before the hunt was called off.

BURNED BY COFFEE

Dinner theatre at McKendree May 3

The dinner theatre will come to McKendree College at Lebanon May 3 with a 5 p.m. buffet and 5:30 p.m. theatrical performance in Ames Dining Hall. "The Diary of Adam and Eve," featuring the wisdom and gentle humor of Mark Twain, will be presented by Bob Smith, Stephen Reynolds, Susan Coleman and Mary Dural of the Alpha-Omega Repertory Company of Dallas, Tex. Tickets are $2 payable at the door.

The student activities office at 537-4481 can handle special reservations for groups. "The Diary of Adam and Eve" is adapted from a short story by Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain), with music by the composers of "Fiddler on the Roof." Fiddler recently was presented on campus by community performers as a benefit. Diary is the story of the beginnings of the age-old struggle between man and woman, as relevant today as in the Garden of Eden.

Heavy dependence on state Senate head for originating new legislative proposals

By KEN WATSON
Capitol News Service
Springfield — Some Statehouse Republicans worry that Bill Harris is "too nice a guy." They say that Senate President and Majority Leader William Cullen Harris, 51, of Pontiac, should take off his gentleman's gloves and give Democrat Gov. Dan Walker a verbal knuckledusting now and then.

Harris, a prosperous insurance man once in the funeral home business, is basically a low-key, soft-shell man. He does become a bit indignant at times, but it's something like a third-grade teacher gently scolding the pupils.

Under Harris, the oratorical pyrotechnics of the GOP have

Harris won the Senate top spot in large measure because many Republican senators felt his practical, sound, non-nonsense approach to legislative issues would be a welcome contrast to others flamboyance.

Harris served three terms in the House before advancing to the Senate in 1960. Beneath his modest, unassuming, friendly exterior there is a deep and basic knowledge of the workings of state government. He served for a time as chairman of the old Illinois Budgetary Commission and is respected by Capitol professionals for his grasp of state fiscal affairs.

Harris has taken sharp issue with Walker on the governor's controversial budget.

The Senate president's most loyal friends concede he does not come over well on television.

As the top Republican in the legislature, Harris has concentrated on offering constructive proposals.

It is Harris, for instance, who is chief sponsor of the GOP legislative package to keep the state's highway program in high gear in the face of threatened major cutbacks.

He played a significant role in the legislative compromise which produced a temporary solution to the Chicago Transit Authority funding problem. And he is expected to have a major say in the final outcome of the budget battle.

Harris early, quietly but firmly, rejected suggestions that the Republican-dominated legislature should concentrate on merely being a Walker critic. He has, instead, pushed for a GOP legislative program of his own.

His strategy has picked up a bonus in that many Democrats in both the House and Senate have despaired of Assembly leadership from the new governor, and also have been initiating program of their own.

A number have been marked similar to those of the GOP and thus has emerged an unusual bipartisan legislative combine, sometimes in direct conflict with the Democratic governor.

In fairness to Gov. Walker, it should be noted that he visualizes the chief executive's role as administrative, and intentionally leaves legislative proposals to the Assembly.

Bill Harris may never raise any cheers. But he might turn out to be the right man for the right job at a strange time in Illinois history.

Sidewalk on Maryville to new school approved

The Granite City Board of Education Monday night gave its approval to a plan to install sidewalks along the east side of Maryville Road from the Maryville School crossing north to the new Granite City High School/North at Maryville and Nameoki roads, a distance of about one-half mile.

Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds for the district, was given permission to release specifications for the work to contractors for bids. The bids will be opened by the board at a regular meeting.

Heubner said the board had appropriated $25,000 for sidewalks to the new school and most of that money likely would be used for the new sidewalk.

of Commerce of the Tri-Cities on funding for the Maryville Road sidewalk, but has been unable to obtain any assistance.

"It looks like the school board is going to have to pay the full cost," he told the board's members. The board also will be responsible for maintenance and insurance for persons injured on the sidewalk, he said.

A permit application for installing the sidewalk was accepted and will be completed and forwarded to the state highway department.

Klesh cited by U. of I. mothers for top grades

Kenneth Klesh, a graduate of Granite City High School, is among 245 freshmen being honored for "A" grades during their first semester at the University of Illinois by the U. of I. Mothers Association.

It is the 10th year of freshmen awards by the association which in May 5 campus Mother's Day activities will mark its golden anniversary.

In recognition of each student's achievement and the high school's part in the achievement, the association presents to the student's high school library a book with a book plate naming the student and citing his scholastic accomplishment at the U. of I.

The book is selected by the school which is allowed $5 by the association. Presentation usually is by a county chairman of the association.
